Address Confidentiality for Judges

Effective April 15, 2019, House Bill 341 of the 132nd General Assembly adds judges and magistrates to the existing list of “designated public service workers” for whom certain personal and familial information is not subject to disclosure under public records law. The bill also gives judges and magistrates the ability to request the redaction of certain information from online public databases, explained in detail below.

Address Confidentiality and Redaction

The bill allows judges and magistrates to request that their addresses be redacted from any public record or database that is made available on the internet. Databases maintained by the county auditor are slightly different, in that the address cannot be redacted, but rather, the judge or magistrate can request that their name be replaced with initials instead.

How to Request Redaction

County Auditor Databases

Judges or their spouses who wish to have their names replaced with their initials on records or databases made available to the public by the county auditor may so request via affidavit. Your county auditor should have a form affidavit available for this purpose.

Any Other Online Public Records

Judges may request that their address be removed from a record that is available to the public on the Internet. The request must be made in writing on a form promulgated by the attorney general. That form is included with this flier, and can be found here.

REQUEST TO REDACT ADDRESS

Pursuant to O.R.C. 149.45(D)(1), a "designated public service worker" may file this form with a public office, other than a county auditor's office, to request that the address of the person making the request be redacted from any record made available by that office to the public on the internet. For purposes of this law, "designated public service worker" is defined at O.R.C. 149.43(A)(7). Upon receiving a request for redaction, a public office shall act within five (5) business days to either redact the requested information or provide a verbal or written explanation to the individual as to why a requested redaction is not practicable. O.R.C. 149.45(D)(2).

Instructions: Complete entire form below and send directly to the public office that maintains the records to be redacted. The Ohio Attorney General will not forward requests on behalf of the requesting individual. The Ohio Attorney General is also not required or permitted to review and/or approve a request for redaction.
